This encyclopedia is a biographical dictionary of some 1,000 women artists of the American West. The product of a twenty-year, coast-to-coast research project by authors Phil Kovinick and Marian Yoshiki-Kovinick, it offers accurate, concise introductions to women painters, graphic artists, and sculptors, all of whom achieved recognition as depicors of Western subjects between the 1840s and 1980. Their styles range from representationalism to early modernism, while their works depict everything from bold landscapes and scenes of intensive action to studies of Native Americans, pioneers, ranchers, farmers, wildlife, and flora.

As a scholar, I exactly feel bored to help with reading. If their teacher requested them to go to the library as well as to make a summary for some e-book, they are complained. Just tiny students that have reading's heart or real leisure activity. They just do what the teacher wants, like asked to the library. They go to at this time there but nothing reading seriously. Any students feel that examining is not important, boring and also can't see colorful pictures on there. Yeah, it is to become complicated. Books are very important for yourself. As we know that on this era, many ways to get whatever we want. Likewise, words say, ways to reach China's country. Therefore this An Encyclopedia of Women Artists of the American West (American Studies) can make you really feel more interested to read.
