Ian, El Guero Francis R. Duffy

Ian, El Güero by Francis R. Duffy is a novel that sinks its claws into you from the first chapter. In this electrifying novel, Duffy weaves a tale of murder, infidelity, espionage and drug-trafficking. Ian Devereux moves to Mexico with his beautiful Mexican-born wife, Dinorah and their daughter, Briana. After 18 years, Ian longs to return to the United States, but Dinorah's father is a powerful political leader and his wife refuses to leave her homeland. Ian seeks solace in the arms of a fatally-attractive Columbian psychiatrist, Daniela. Their love affair sets off a chain of catastrophic events that quickly spirals out of control. Ian finds himself caught up in a web of intrigue that threatens to put him and his family in harm's way. This ordinary English teacher finds himself cleverly dodging dangerous criminals, participating in a drug smuggling operation and devising a plan to sabotage it. Who killed the agent? Who's the greatest threat to Ian? Who must he betray? Duffy creates a dizzyingly, heart-pounding novel with a protagonist whose normal life is turned upside down by duty to his country. A roller coaster of a story, it builds to a dramatic and stunning conclusion. Francis Duffy grew up in the New York Metropolitan area and has an English language school in Mexico City. He has five screenplays to his credit. Mr. Duffy has one daughter, one granddaughter and lives with his wife of 37 years. Ian, El Güero is his second novel.
